

RACE WEEK REHEARSAL

SUN JUL 12 – SUN JUL 19 MILEAGE 16–18 HARD DAYS 2

2 WEEKS OUT FROM NATIONALS

It will be fun and exciting to work on things that simulate race week at Nationals! This is a chance to see how it feels to do hard days back to back and to dial in recovery. The point isn't to prove anything — it's to find out what it feels like, so nothing surprises you at Nationals.

Practice recovery this week - good sleep, good food, some mobility, cold plunges, etc. They consistently make a big difference in races.

Another focus will be mental strategies. This is a good week to:

- Visualize the races. The energy at the start, the laps, how you'll feel. Come up with a plan to help you stay positive — and know it will be hard at times.
- Dial in your mantra. Write it down Tuesday. Use it in both workouts.
- Practice having fun while doing hard things. Smile. Laugh sometimes.
- Look back at the season. You have done so many awesome things with running this season. Hard training, fast races, new events — like a throws relay :). You have everything you need already.

Nationals is where you get to enjoy all of the hard work you put in this season.

THE RACES WILL BE FAST AND FUN. JUST LIKE YOU.

OVERVIEW

Thursday and Friday of this week are set up to mimic Thursday and Friday of race week. Same days, same order, same 24-hour turnaround.

TRAINING SCHEDULE

12
SUN

BASE RUN

Dynamic warmup.

4.99 mile 🏃 base run — scope out places to do intervals.

Mobility circuit.

13

MON

CROSS TRAIN

Dynamic warmup.

Swim, bike, surf, hike — something fun.

Strength circuit — 1 round only, not 2.

14

TUE

BASE RUN + STRIDES + MANTRA

Dynamic warmup.

2–3 mile base run with 4 × 30 second strides mixed in.

Mobility circuit.

TODAY'S HOMEWORK – YOUR MANTRAS

Three or four words each. Use words that describe how you want to race. Write down up to three, then try them out Thursday and Friday and keep the ones that work.

1 WRITE IT HERE

2 OPTIONAL

3 OPTIONAL

15

WED

CROSS TRAIN

Dynamic warmup.

Swim, bike, surf, hike — something fun.

Mobility circuit.

Easy on purpose. The next two days will be harder.

16

THU

1500M PRELIM SIMULATION

This workout will simulate the 1500m prelims 2 weeks from today. Keep it controlled and smooth.

- It would be great to do this on a flat dirt road, bike path, or section of quiet road. You can use effort and feeling rather than actual paces. Also you can do it by time or distance.

If you do it on a dirt road definitely do it by time and effort NOT distance and actual paces.

- Practice using your mantra during this workout.

- Practice smiling at least once during each interval — it's been shown that brief periods of smiling actually improve running economy by 2–3%! Kipchoge (the 1:59 marathoner) does it deliberately at least once a mile during his races and workouts 😊

WARM UP

Dynamic warmup. This is the same as your race day warmup.

THE WORKOUT — 800M - REST - 400M - REST - 300M

REP	TARGET	ACTUAL
800m	2:30–2:40 Mile pace. Start slower and build into it.
REST	3–4 min full recovery. Walk, legs up, a few sips of water or electrolytes.
400m	75–80 sec Mile pace or a touch faster. Build into it.
REST	3–4 min full recovery. Same drill.
300m	50–55 sec Fast and relaxed . This is the last lap of a prelim when you're already in position to advance. Finish feeling like you could do another one.

COOL DOWN

5–10 min easy jog, about half a mile.

RECOVERY ROUTINE

This is what makes tomorrow possible. Try these things and use them to create a routine you can use at Nationals. Tap each one as you do it.

- ☐ Eat within 30 minutes. Carbs first, some protein with them. This is the single biggest lever you have on how tomorrow feels.
- ☐ Legs up the wall, 10–15 minutes.
- ☐ Get in cold water. Maine has a lot of it.
- ☐ Real meals the rest of the day. Don't skip or graze.
- ☐ Short nap if you can get one.
- ☐ Legs up again a couple more times.
- ☐ Long, good night of sleep. Nine hours if you can.

17

FRI

3000 WORKOUT

This workout will simulate the 3000 the day after your 1500 prelim. This is a chance to practice running hard two days in a row. It will be the last hard workout you do before Nationals.

Your legs may seem tired before you start, but you'll probably surprise yourself once you get going. You can do it.

- It would be great to do this on a flat dirt road, bike path, or section of quiet road. You can use effort and feeling rather than actual paces. Also you can do it by time or distance.
If you do it on a dirt road definitely do it by time and effort NOT distance and actual paces.
- Use your mantra. Don't forget to smile once per rep.
- Channel Elhousine Elazzaoui — remember how smooth he looked on the track and how he just kept going. That's what you look like.

WARM UP

Dynamic warmup. This is the same as your race day warmup.

THE WORKOUT — 3 × 800–1000M @ 3K PACE

Run the first one, then pick your remaining interval distances (800m or 1000m) based on how you feel. Start each rep slower and build into the pace.

REP	TARGET	ACTUAL
1	2:45–3:25 3k pace. Settle in and find the rhythm.
REST	3–4 min. Walk, legs up, sips of water or electrolytes.
2	2:45–3:25 Same pace. This is the one where you hold on to the good thoughts and let the bad ones go.
REST	3–4 min.
3	2:45–3:25 Kick the last 300m. Fast and strong. Do this one on the smoothest surface you've got.

COOL DOWN

5–10 min easy jog, about half a mile.

RECOVERY ROUTINE

Good recovery makes multiple races go way better! Try these things and use them to create a routine you can use at Nationals. Tap each one as you do it.

- ☐ Eat within 30 minutes. Carbs first, some protein with them. This is the single biggest lever you have on how tomorrow feels.
- ☐ Legs up the wall, 10–15 minutes.
- ☐ Get in cold water. Maine has a lot of it.
- ☐ Real meals the rest of the day. Don't skip or graze.
- ☐ Short nap if you can get one.
- ☐ Legs up again a couple more times.
- ☐ Long, good night of sleep. Nine hours if you can.

18

SAT

REST DAY

Chill day, no running, maybe some light walking, light swimming or yoga. That's the workout.

19

SUN

EASY

Dynamic warmup.

2-4 mile easy run OR cross train.

Mobility circuit.
